Additional Comments:

I've only been working with Steve for a short time, but so far, am very impressed by his level of professionalism and commitment to the organization.

Steve's technical skills need further development. He should attend regular training programs offered in the main conference room.

Sometimes when talking to Steve, he doesn't seem to listen to my answers to questions he has asked. He should pay more attention to his listening style.

Steve always maintains a professional attitude, even under the most difficult situations.
